TABLE SPACES

From breakfast chatter to quiet homework and family dinners, your choice of table is often the starting point for your decorating inspiration

Worn pieces and reclaimed finds create a comforting atmosphere.

Years of use have buffed away the hard edges of these mismatched wooden seats, giving them a well-loved look that creates a reassuring feel for twins' tea time or a pair for grown-ups. Buy a haphazard find like this one from Delusions of Grandeur and pair it with seashore finds. A nubby linen tablecloth from Jane Sacchi adds softness. The Home has painted high chairs.

Oversized and ornate make a real style statement in a contemporary space

Clean lines and white walls are the perfect foil for this huge, decorative dining table. Elegant yet hardy, it is in fact an antique French door set on ornamental legs, but for an alternative oversized piece, why not invest in a reclaimed boardroom table? Head to Lasso for a vast selection of architectural salvage. Minimal chairs are a complete contrast and sit surprisingly well next to the table's intricate carving.
